Installation: Unzip the downloaded file to a suitable location. Take note of the path. Open a command prompt to this location. Make sure you type the correct path and name. Run the command below. c:\Users\Username\AppData\Local\Portableapps\program files>.\install.cmd After all the files are installed, double-click on PortableApps.org. From there you can launch your programs right from the launcher menu. How to Use: Click on the PortableApps.org icon to launch the application. The home screen will show the programs installed and available. Select the program you want to run. It should open right away. Close the program when you are done. Uninstall: To remove a program, first open the PortableApps.org homepage. Click on Uninstall. Select the program you want to uninstall. Click OK. Click on PortableApps.org to uninstall the program. To see a list of installed programs, open the homepage of PortableApps.org. How to update to the new v4.2.2 build: Download latest version from the link below. Extract the downloaded file to the root of your sd card. Note the location. Open a command prompt to the location. Type the command below. c:\Users\Username\AppData\Local\Portableapps\program files>.\update.cmd Reboot your device. Your program will be upgraded. Problem Solving If the program won't launch, then it is in the wrong location. The Portableapps.org launcher automatically launches the program in the correct location. If that does not work, then update the location. If you need to know your device's IP address, just open a command prompt and type ipconfig /all If the program isn't visible in the home screen, clear your cache and try again. You can clear your cache by opening a command prompt and typing c:\Users\Username\AppData\Local\Portableapps\program files>.\cache.cmd License: This is an open source,
