The previous film assigned to PG-13 was Skyfall, which went on to become the highest grossing movie of all time. It is also the highest-grossing film of 2012 in North America and overseas. Gary Wilson, chief communications officer for 20th Century Fox, released a statement Thursday morning that said: "The MPAA just informed us that our targeted ratings on Looper will be PG-13. That is based on various factors including our cutting of the film, music in the film and the fact that the target release date is June 21, 2013." Bruce Willis plays a retired hit man who sets up the time loop. The script by the Coen Brothers and Wrotten Czerny from a story by the director was nominated for the 2011 Writers Guild of America award for Best Script Written Directly for the Screen. The film also received 10 nominations including Best Picture at the Independent Spirit Awards and earned Gordon-Levitt his second nomination for best actor.
