American Board of Emergency Medicine The American Board of Emergency Medicine (ABEM) is a national medical specialty certifying board for emergency medicine physician specialists. The certifying boards work to make sure medical licensure is recognized by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. The ABEM was established in March 2007 as a national certifying board for emergency medicine physician specialists. Dr. John Hutton, former Chief of Emergency Medicine at St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto, is the current Chief Executive Officer of the ABEM. The ABEM is one of the six medical specialty certifying boards to have its scope of practice defined by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA). This
