Came across a free black and white/PNG RTS game by Jolly Colecraft He was creating separate graphics for different areas that included tracks for my mechs and you can play using the strats and strategies I came up with :)
He's has kindly uploaded the game to a private download site for me but I'm looking for people who would help to get it online and also add more graphics to it. Anyone wishing to help can contact him at his email address : (Note the event on Itunes does not work).
Also it would be best to leave the files for the mech tracks as separate from the game files so they can be uploaded once the game is online.

The game is in MPG for Windows and should run on XP, Vista and Win 7.

Features of the game:

Access to 7 different races, 50 maps of different sizes and areas and mostly terrain type can be set at game start time

Can be played in standard
