"In FIFA 22, we have attempted to touch on everything that makes football special to deliver an experience that is the best version of the game yet," said Guillaume Rochet, Senior Producer. "Alongside our long-standing gameplay foundation, the new settings, new camera options, new formations, new commentary and more, we have enhanced the AI with new game play algorithms and created a very realistic FIFA experience that reflects our new Football Intelligence Engine." Game Enhancements FIFA 22 introduces the intuitive new Football Intelligence Engine, which automatically adapts to changing game states during gameplay. The Football Intelligence Engine has also allowed players to choose from over 1,000 custom animated make-up faces, providing a huge amount of creative variety in the player appearance. Customization includes various features such as hairstyles, beards, eye-line and the color of the player's face. As a result, players can now look the part of their favorite team and the characteristics of their favorite players, while getting up close to the players they are about to play against. Attached please find a revised version of the final version of Enron's response to the UCC. This version is identical to the one distributed on Friday, with one exception: I substituted "Unsecured" for "Commodity Credit Corporation." I believe this to be the appropriate characterization because the underlying debt is owed by the entities within CP, and CP is a "corporation whose shares are not traded on an established securities market." Please confirm that this is correct. I have asked Greer Carlson, our counsel for the CP litigation, for his concurrence in this nomenclature.
