Q: Which Practice to adopt when Launching iPhone App in a Large scale I am developing an iPhone App which uses SF Symbols along with JPG Images. The App is developed according to Apple's new App Store guidelines, with JPG images only. The App works fine in iOS 6 but there are a couple of issues with iOS7 The JPG Images have small size which makes JPG Image ratio about 1:0.58. However, there is no space to view the Design when navigation is used. The Image below shows the full screen application. The white box marks the JPG Image which is about 100x100 pixels. I couldn't find any suitable answer to this matter. How can I launch an iPhone App in a large scale with JPG images?

A: The JPG Images have small size which makes JPG Image ratio about 1:0.58. However, there is no space to view the Design when navigation is used. I don't see why that's a problem. The display resolution is not known at design time. If your design doesn't scale to a 320x568 resolution, then it isn't fit to be a 320x568 resolution. If someone decides to purchase your app on the iPad, it shouldn't be a problem. Same goes for your design ratio. The only practical thing you can do is to make sure you have a high-quality JPG for the app icon, and that scaling works just fine. It's not a common practice, so don't be worried if you're already using your app icon to launch your app. Share Back in 2012, when the Enron bankruptcy was fresh, Maria Bartiromo said, "Maybe we should have investigated the deal more than we did." | 0cc13bf012

It turned into a Friday night that would have rivaled the loudest and highest-scoring night of his up-and-down career in the Motor City. When Petway hit the 10-foot ring in Anaheim, Ala., he smiled wide and then cradled the ball that had been in the air for what seemed like eons, but was not more than a minute. The Alabama linebacker dropped to his left knee and slowly tilted the ball in his hands, making the sign of the cross as he raised his right arm in triumph. His parents, Greg and Jackie, stood on either side of him, and friends and teammates looked on from the front row, including No. 90, Michael Lewis. The actor played Alabama linebacker Nicholas Petway on the 2016 movie "Hunger Games: Mockingjay -- Part 2." "Do you think he's crazy?" said Lewis, the character's father. "I do," Petway said. "I do, too," Gregory Petway said. "That's all they were waiting for," Petway said, taking in all the festivities. "It's kind of hard to explain the feeling, but it was like the whole night." A state championship ring could add to the feeling, but Petway's decision to head down to his hometown to celebrate
