PTC Creo v2.0 M030 MULTILANGUAGE-SolidSQUAD Crack For WindowsQ: Unexpected Source code syntax errors in PHP when file is placed on webserver I am a PHP newbie and have run into what seems to be a simple issue with syntax. I have a PHP script file with the following: `open(); $db->insert('users', [ 'email' => $email, 'password' => $password, ])`; On a local machine running php from the command line I can open this file in my browser and all is well. However, when I upload the same file to the Apache webserver I get a host of syntax errors. Here's a screenshot of the terminal displaying the errors: As you can see, there's a ton of errors of this type: Parse error: syntax error, unexpected '}' in /etc/php5/cli/conf.d/mysqlnd.ini How do I resolve this issue? I was under the impression that this was a very basic issue. A: You have forgotten to close your [ ] syntax brackets. `open(); $db->insert('users', [ 'email' => $email, 'password' => $password, ])`; should be `0cc13bf012`
