Q: Separating first and last names in access database

Hi i have a table called tbResidence with 3 columns called ID, Name, Residence. in one row the Name and Residence will be different in two rows both Name and Residence will be different. I want to separate the Name and Residence in different columns. I mean the first name must be on Name1 column and the last name in Name2 column. Also i want to separate the Name and Residence according to country, so for exmaple Name1 Name2 Abdulhaq Barakat Farshad Hass Farshad Hassi A: select s.name, s.residence, s1.residence, s2.residence from tbResidence s left join tbResidence s1 on s1.name = s.residence left join tbResidence s2 on s2.name = s.residence where s.name like '%ish' -- or whatever you're looking for or s1.name like '%ish' -- or whatever you're looking for Try this. Should give you at least one record per name. Edited to add left join and where clause

Recent progress in the development of an effective antifertility vaccine against hens. In the last two decades, immunocontraceptive research has emerged as a promising novel approach to contraception; thus, a large amount of scientific research has been carried out in this field. However, most of the approaches applied to control fertility of reproductive organs have failed, partly due to the failure to promote appropriate immune responses. On the basis of the failure in the development of an appropriate immune response

Features Key:

Creative Mode, designed to allow you to freely create your character as you like and the world as you want.

Time-limited Difficulty Changes - The unique Time-limited Difficulty system will allow you to get used to the challenges you might have difficulty overcoming. As time passes, the number of easy monsters will increase to provide you with a chance to fight them easily.

Dynamic Upgrades - With the normal upgrade process, you will slowly progress from the overused to the unusable. The upgrades will help you eliminate the blunders you have made. You also must have the right items at the right times to unlock the ranks of the upgrades.

New worlds - In addition to existing worlds, we will release new worlds every month. This, along with the game's new difficulty levels, will keep players hooked for long.

Challenge Dungeon - Battle against monsters or clear hard-to-find content to obtain Experience and Battle Points. You will not only be able to evaluate your level of skills compared to others but will also be able to check your progress on the leaderboards.

Turn-based Combat - Enjoy a simple, fast combat system with intuitive control and easy strategy. As you fight, skill and strategy will be displayed clearly for each attack and defense, and the results will appear on the screen. You will also be able to learn the basic stats of their attacks and defense.

Cooperative Features - With the support of online play, you can enjoy an extended gameplay experience with a party of up to four other players.

2 Mode: Install the game to your PC, or connect with the online server and play as you like. You are free to be violent or gentle as you like. We will continuously improve the gameplay.
