The table should display the names of students as a left column, while the ID should be displayed in the right column. I have seen how to create a table with already set rows and columns. but don't know how to make the columns dynamic so as to add new row with '+' button. I am using objective c language. A: Here is one way to do it. You can set the table headers and add rows using following delegate methods of UITableView. - (NSInteger)tableView:(UITableView *)tableView numberOfRowsInSection:(NSInteger)section{ return [self.array count]; } - (UITableViewCell *)tableView:(UITableView *)tableView cellForRowAtIndexPath:(NSIndexPath *)indexPath { static NSString *CellIdentifier = @"Cell"; Cell cell = (Cell) [tableView dequeueReusableCellWithIdentifier:CellIdentifier]; if (cell == nil) { cell = [[[Cell alloc] initWithStyle:UITableViewCellStyleDefault reuseIdentifier:CellIdentifier] autorelease]; } NSMutableArray *tagsArray = [[NSMutableArray alloc] init]; for (NSString *name in self.array) { [tagsArray addObject:name]; } NSString *tag = [tagsArray objectAtIndex:indexPath.row]; cell.textLabel.text = tag; return cell; } In the Cell Class, add the following methods: @interface Cell

The Pirate Protocol is a game about one day, 1 million players and a pyramid of power which may have to be sacrificed at any time. The Pirate Protocol is a game with a large number of accessories, featuring a challenge that can be experienced by online gamers, rather than those bound by time and place. Players will have to complete powerful and immediate "chapters" along a linear path within a day in the game world. The game gives players the challenge of the entire day in a single game. In addition, it features systems in which players can adventure to a region where a large number of players exist and meet new and old friends. This is a game that requires teamwork and involves numerous unique gimmicks and surprises as you go along.In addition, we have added costumes, additional costumes, new fish, as well as a variety of weapons. Pirate Protocol is a game that makes you feel like a pirate, from the very beginning. We will soon be announcing the version 2.0 update for Pirate Protocol, which will include new costumes and additional updates.I made this recipe for a recipe swap group I participated in with my friend Marisa of Her Mad Dash. She's my favorite foodie, and I'm so excited to taste these delicious and creative cupcakes! These would also be great to bring to a potluck. : Attila (Click to play) Article at least 1 year ago, lies acceptable. I think the classic Total War Attila Steam Minion sounds great, and I always wanted to hear the victory say that Attila didn't die so that nobody could complain about later events. So this is what I did. I took a complex route, finding a combinatorium of dissimilar and yet somehow interwined components for that invincibility factor. First of all, I am an autocrat. I am invincible, but not to a "autocrat" type of victory, as I am a shining example on how to be autocratic/imperial/totalitarian. What that means is, in addition to the many other achievements in power, etc, I have many bodies spread across the world. In this case, I used a great many statues of Ramses II, with a relatively small amount of life forces. The victory message should be my total divinity, what I brought to the world. You know, the rest of the inanimate pieces gave their lives to create the autocephalous, independent presence of Attila. Also, I am a -german- emperor, so I cheated with some things a little. I'm that way. I have no reason to be a Minnesänger at all, and I actually cheated a bit on the "throne of the ruination" by not having that around the world, as the idea of the majority outraging onto it in my "totalitarian" sphere is simply absurd.
