The sequel to Dungeon Manager ZV is finally here! Dungeon Manager ZV2 is a classic dungeon defense game with a huge new interface and loads of new features. Customize your dungeon design with new buildings. Manage your whole dungeon from your own management page. Defend your dungeon from human intruders. Upgrade your levels, pay for new upgrades with Dungeon Points and maybe even evolve into a Queen of the Demons. Defend your dungeon from marauding human intruders and top of the leader board with your friends! With the addition of a new A.I. Engine the invading humans will now perform more intelligent attacks. This makes it possible to finally solve the infamous "Invader Blockage" bug which, since the first Dungeon Manager, has been a source of frustration for many players. About StudioGIW

What's new in World Of Guns: World War I Pack 1:

$24.99 Add-on Return Listener This download contains the return listener for the first mission of the Koblenz - Trier scenario. It adds a location to launch the player and the new trains to the scenario, and increases the speed of the cars. You must install the Koblenz - Trier scenarios before installing this listener. Return Listener This add-on adds the following new location, and increases the movement speed of the trains on tracks set by the scenario's manager. It also adds a new station build that will operate trains between specific locations and/or carriages. The player can now set the location where the player starts the scenario when the scenario begins. This location can be set either before or after setting the parameters for the new scenario. Setting the location before the scenario starts will load the scenario locally. If a scenario is set up for both pc and lan, then this option allows the player to choose which version to load. The scenario's manager can define the time it should take to finish the scenario. In this case you can set both a duration and a speed on which it should run. This time of duration is determined based on how many trains are working in a carriage and how many stop in a location. For this duration, you can also decide how many trains a carriage can hold. See scenario for details. For example, an 8 carriage train that works for 8 hours will complete the scenario in the following time: 8 hours in duration * 8 trains

= 64 hours duration, 3,200 train - travelling speed. The new listener can also be set to connect to a specific local train instead of a train without given parameter. This option can be set in scenario manager. The player can also set the time that the scenario should appear after log out. Finally, the new listener also adds a new build: Station 1 at the beginning of the scenario. This station is capable of running trains between different locations, but it cannot be used to set time or have it vary with number of trains. Settings To manipulate settings, you can use self-explanatory options and tabs. Configure starts directly after the player has loaded the new listener. The scenario is never loaded into memory. Time and event frequency The Number of trains in loaded station Sets the number of trains to be loaded into the station. The running speed for the trains
