What's New in the Zoiper?

Zoiper is a reliable and effective piece of software whose main purpose is to help users perform voice and video calls with their friends, family, colleagues and business partners. Unlike other programs such as Skype, the program allows you to use any VoIP provider or PBX you want. When you launch Zoiper for the first time, the application requires you to configure the speakers, the microphone and the camera, then make sure that they work properly. After that, you need to create a new SIP, IAX or XMPP account by specifying the right credentials such as username, password and domain. The main window of the application is intuitive and very easy to work with. Its multi-tabbed interface enables you to manage and organize all the available contacts, view all the call logs and change the status to 'Online', 'Invisible', 'Away' or 'Be right back'. By accessing the Contacts tab, you are able to manually add other contacts, import from another source or find contacts that are already available in the program. Zoiper provides you with useful wizards that will guide you through all the necessary steps. You are able to specify details such as name, country, city and phone number, as well as assign a personalized image for each contact. The Dialpad tab displays a virtual phone machine with buttons and controls from where you can dial any number you want. Additionally, you can start chatting or perform a video call. One important feature is that Zoiper integrates within various mail clients such as Outlook, Lotus Organizer, Thunderbird and even browsers, here referring to Internet Explorer, Firefox or Chrome so you can call any contact you want. To wrap it up, Zoiper proves to be an effective and steady solution when it comes to performing various video calls effortlessly, as well as managing all the contacts, sending fax messages and start chatting with your friends.Q: Highcharts green in black bar chart Why is the green line in this black bar chart showing as green? $('#container').highcharts({ chart: { type: 'bar' }, title: { text: 'Monthly Average Temperature', x: -
