▲▲▲▲▲▲▲▲▲● After playing this game for a while (maybe a month maybe 2), I can't believe how good it is. It has so much to offer you when you play it. I can't wait to see what else will come out from this developer. One day there will be two game announcements at once. GAME PLAY: ▲▲▲▲▲▲▲▲ The game is fast-paced and fun to play. There's a lot to do in the game when you start a new adventure. There are so many skills to equip and you can choose to be a warrior, magic-user or a thief. I didn't really think I would like the rogue class but I still do. I just really don't like the way it's like a Vampire game. After reading through the description it said its based on the FFXV game and I thought the game could be similar. Which is very true. The thief is very fun. You can steal anything from a town and have a lot of fun while you do it. And then you can take things that aren't yours and sell them back for gold. I really enjoy how Thief has the most use out of everything and the sound design is amazing. This is probably one of the best turn based RPG games I've played and I really recommend it to people that want to have some fun. STORY: ▲▲▲▲▲▲▲▲ The story of the game is very interesting. You play as a character from the legend of the Elden Ring. Your name is Tarnished. Tarnished has lived a life of hardship until a voice telling him to go to certain parts in the title world. You help other people along the way. Now you will get to play as an Elden Lord. You play as an Elden Lord. You are the leader of your people and you must guide them in battle. With your utmost effort, you will become an Elden Lord in the Lands Between. Your people will soon be in need of your help. STORY: The story of the game is very interesting. Many people there, me included, are now officially Moddb’s admin and total lurkers. To be honest, before joining the Outcast community we were usually moddb readers without the modding task at hand, in my case it was in the “PM raids” section. After joining O, still hesitatingly, we got an access to the other sections and started reading
