How can this be done? A: Use the jQuery hover() function, like this: `jQuery('#menu a').hover(function() { //do something }, function() { //do something else });` You can also combine the hover() with a CSS hover selector, like this: `.menu li:hover a { //do something }` Edit: After your edited question, you have to change your CSS hover selector to this: `#menu li:hover a { //do something }` * f - 1 4 .
