The impact of the University of Medicine and Pharmacy 'Sfax' ultrasound on the management of pregnancy induced hypertension. To assess the impact of the ultrasound scanner in the management of pregnancy induced hypertension (PIH). A prospective study from June 1999 to June 2001. All women referred by Obstetricians for ultrasound scanning were included. The scan reports were analysed according to the criteria proposed by Carpenter and Coustan. The gestational age of the patients was assessed according to the biparietal diameter (BPD). The patients were divided into three groups: Group A: 50 women with severe preeclampsia/eclampsia. Group B: 50 women with severe preeclampsia/eclampsia and an identifiable foetal abnormality. Group C: 50 women with milder forms of PIH. The mean age of the group A was 30.9 +/- 5.6 years; the mean BPD was > or = 20 and > or = 30 cm in 84% and 16% of the women respectively. The obstetrical and neonatal results in group A were significantly lower than those in group B. Of the patients in group A, only 14% were delivered within 14 days of admission. The mean gestational age at delivery was comparable to that of the control group, but there was a significantly higher incidence of intra-uterine death. 919 Comments Should be fun to play though right? I don't really play these browser-based thing but I definitely play tf2.. 1:24pm 12 / 10 Despite its obvious concentration on "irony," the trailer is cute & well animated. I'm listening to "Cassettes and Surfboards" by The Breeders. It will be available to play on all major browsers. You can unlock the app with Twitch Prime, or if you haven't joined yet, you'll be able to log into your account while trying it out. ... 6:52am 12 / 10 I'm not sure to understand if you can't play right away or if it's a promotion to Twitch and such for those who already are members of Twitch. Is it possible to have people vote on their favorite emotes and compare the votes from people watching? I used to be able to love from the bottom of my heart. I loved it a lot when i was a child and the internet was just coming up
