The Tarksh, equipped with advanced technology and state-of-the-art weaponry, is an operational and advanced class of submarine and a popular vessel among military personnel of the Islamic Republic of Iran. The warship was intercepted by Pakistan Navy while it was off the shore of Khas district of Balochistan province at around 3:30 am, a statement from the Inter-Services Public Relations said. The warship "was seen running critical surveillance on our territories", the statement said. The statement further said that the Tarksh was carrying out unannounced and unprovoked electronic surveillance and aerial patrolling activities against Pakistan Navy and armed forces in violation of international laws and maritime conventions. "The warship was identified as an Iranian warship and was being intercepted by the naval units of Pakistan Navy," the statement said. It said the Iranian warship had also violated maritime sovereignty of Pakistan through its "unannounced and unprovoked" electronic surveillance and aerial patrolling activities. "The security of the territorial waters of Pakistan and her Exclusive Economic Zone (EEZ) is under the full responsibility and authority of Pakistan," the statement added.
