If you are using a mix of Office on the desktop and on a mobile device, the mobile components of Office are installed on a mobile device as an Office mobile app, unless the mobile components are targeted to a specific mobile device. For example, to target a specific mobile device, the Office mobile app must be targeted to a specific mobile device. You can use the Mobile Device Targeting wizard in Microsoft Office in the following ways: If you have an Office 365 subscription, you also can connect Office apps to your Windows, Mac, iOS, or Android devices and access Office features and content by using the Office Store. Office apps can be installed from the Office Store or from an Office 365 portal. For example, Office apps are available as mobile apps in the Office Store for iOS and Android devices. Devices with Office installed automatically download the latest version of the app.

For more information, see the Office app store and Android and iOS app stores. We also plan to upgrade existing installations of Office on the VLSC to the Office 2019 versions in the future. The existing VLSC installations are migrated to the Office 2019 version automatically when you log on to the VLSC to download new versions of Office. On your Android phone or tablet, open an Internet browser, such as Chrome, Safari, Firefox, or Opera. Enter <http://aka.ms/officesubcred> in the address bar and press Enter. In the Office Subscription Center, sign in to your Microsoft 365 account, or create a free account if you haven't already. Click the Get Started Now button. If you're prompted to download an Android app, click Yes.
