starting off, youll notice that you have no camera, and youll need to stay low and crouch as you move around the map to find the best places to hide. the idea is that once you find a good vantage point, youll need to make an incision on the game's ui where you can't miss. and then, once you take that out, youll have to shoot the sniper rifle in the direction of the current enemy. theres no auto-aim, so if you miss, youll have to reload, which takes around a minute or so. the first kill is tricky, because you have to take out the sniper rifle, and you have to do it at a specific location and you have to take it out without it being noticed. if you get spotted, youll be exposed for a few seconds and then the enemies will start to move around and take you out. if you get a kill with a silenced sniper rifle, it is silent, but it only lasts for a few seconds, and then the enemies will start to move and take you out. if you get killed with a silenced sniper rifle, youll be exposed for a few seconds, but thats its only purpose. youll have to use your sniper rifle for the rest of the level, and youll have to be a bit more careful when you move around because the bullet velocity is much higher now. you have to be closer to the target and youll have to use the wind to your advantage. there will be times where the enemy will cover their ears and even move a bit because they are scared to death. youll have to use the wind against you, but youll be rewarded because youll be able to move around the map without taking the hit, but youll have to be careful. youll have to make sure that you dont use up your ammo, and youll have to use the wind against you, but youll be rewarded because youll be able to move around the map without taking the hit, but youll have to be careful.
