
VCL RedRock Styles From DelphiStyles.com [BETTER]

Perhaps you've noticed that some apps seem to look a little different. You know, the look that sets them apart from the herd. That's the secret to a stunning product: Showing off the best work. Showing off the best work. VCL RedRock is a free VCL control designed to help you design and build amazing software apps! For the past couple of months, developers in the Delphi world have been given access to an extensive library of VCL RedRock styles from everyone's favorite designer, DelphiStyles.com. Now DelphiStyles.com is ready to give you access to the style library! Choose your style, and then grab one of our many free available VCL RedRock styles . And if you want to try even more styles, simply sign up for the upcoming Member Beta of DelphiStyles.com, and download all the free styles then and there! OzCode is an ODB of the runtime and manages the program's components dynamically. If something goes wrong with the component, OzCode will either give you a detailed report, or try to fix it, depending on which type you chose. When something goes wrong, make the appropriate component errors, use the stack trace to decide where it came from, and what happened next. If it was bad enough, use OzCode's automatic analysis to fix your code. If you want to be careful and get precise diagnostics for a runtime error, be sure to use the latest version of OzCode.
