Photoshop Cs6 Serial Number Crack 12 Fixed

after updating, i found my photoshop cs6 (installed on osx mavericks) went to the app store and purchased the updates, which took me to my desktop. i wanted to see what version of photoshop cs6 i had on my mac, so i selected photoshop from the applications folder. the result was that i found photoshop cs6 (x64) installed on my mac. i had previously purchased photoshop cs6 a few months ago and it was installed on my pc. does anyone have any ideas? i have adobe enterprise edition cs6 up and running on my mac. when i open it, it asks for a serial number to activate it. that is a good thing. it's not that i care about the license key, i just want to know if i am up to date. what i didn't expect was that it also asks for the serial number of the installation i bought. can i have both? i have two computers. i purchased a license for both (adobe creative cloud) and both are cs6. only one works (i think it's the one i bought last year). i can get it to install but the serial number is obviously different. how do i get both to work? i have a macbook pro mid-2011. it was running high sierra. i can't upgrade it and wanted to clean install. i was able to get an older version of adobe photoshop cs6 from the adobe website and installed it. i have been using it for a week and it does not have the issue described in the question. my question is, since i can't install the newest version of photoshop on the mac that i have, how can i ensure that i do not accidentally activate the new version? *the esleid is the primary serial number in the event that the esr leid is lost or changed. the esr leid is not required for the esr. however, the esr leid is used in conjunction with the esr to provide additional protection of the serial numbers. if you have the esr leid, then the esleid is not required for using the esr.
