You can try the “setup.exe” utility (you can find this in the media files directory) that you downloaded from the Microsoft site. If you're using Windows 8.1 you're in luck. This will setup everything for you and create the base images as well as the optical media on-disk in the same format as a retail version of Windows. Otherwise, you have to create a USB drive with the ISO file and the same version of Windows that you have. I bought a used brand new laptop off of eBay with Windows 8.1 Enterprise 32 bit on it. I did not get an installer disk, but the laptop was activated without a problem, as it was fully working, but it came with Windows 8.1, so I have a license key for that. I don't have a license key for Windows 8.0 Enterprise, and there is no way for me to get a Windows 8.0 key or the Windows 7 key to bypass this. Can I get a Windows 8.0 Enterprise key? I have bought a new gaming laptop with Windows 8 Professional, and I have the Windows 8 Pro key, and the activation key for Windows 8.0, and it worked for the Windows 8 and Windows 8.1 versions, but not the Windows 7 version. I was wondering if it is possible to find a Windows 7 activation key for my new laptop, it's not that old and it's still under warranty, but I have also bought a clean Windows 7 DVD and it's activated, so that I can clean install it. I've got a laptop that has Windows 8.1 Pro on it, and I have bought the Windows 8.1 Pro key from Microsoft. The problem is, I tried to activate it on a desktop that has a Windows 7 installed, and it does not activate, says there are issues with it, when I tried to download the Windows 7 key from the activation server. Is there a way to turn this off and allow Windows 8.1 to work properly, and use Windows 8.1 once Windows 7 is uninstalled?

It's time to say goodbye to the desktop interface and move to Windows 10. Let's go straight to download and download Win 10 or the Windows 10 ISO with media or clean Windows 10 ISO file. What is Windows 10 all about? Furthermore, Windows 10 will feature the traditional desktop interface. You have the option to install the desktop only in a dual boot or fully replace the desktop and the older interface with Windows 8 and all the Windows 8.1 features. Keep in mind, both Windows 8 and 8.1 will be offered to you only to the Windows 8 users and Windows 7 users will have to choose between the two interfaces. Windows 10 will not let you switch between both interfaces, it will be a single Windows Experience interface and it will behave similarly to Win 8.1 and Windows 8. In other words, you will always have the start menu in the upper left hand corner along with old Charms and features that were new in Windows 8.1. WIN10 is meant to give Windows its first real makeover since Windows 95. There was a time when the desktop ruled the world of computing and the PC was considered a permanent fixture of the office. And as the need for a portable computer that can withstand the rigors of the desktop and the world of information grew, PCs appeared. The desktop was the domain of the power users and professionals. Windows 95 was created with these power users in mind. Microsofts new operating system is bringing about a new era of computing.
