Credit:Graham Halbish It was a decision that manager Jason Gillespie said had been hard to make, and one that was challenged by one of his players. "It's a tough decision to make. It's not one we're particularly looking forward to making, but I think it's a decision that's got to be made," Gillespie said. "We tried to have our team tonight, but unfortunately it didn't happen." His left-arm spinner Martin Gupthill said the thinking was that Black deserved an opportunity. "It's a tough one for him. He hasn't made his international debut yet, and we were anticipating him being included in our squad and giving him some game experience," Gupthill said. "Then, unfortunately, he ends up getting carted off the field by concussion. "It's a big call, we have to be a bit careful about how we make these decisions. Hopefully we've made the right call. "It's important to come back and play, and he has got to get up there and play." The 20-year-old Black, whose parents hail from Newcastle and whose schooling was at Epsom College
