GTA Vice City Stories is a video game spin-off developed by Canadian studio Rockstar San Diego and published by Rockstar Games. It is the 10th installment in the Grand Theft Auto series. Grand Theft Auto: Vice City Stories is an open world action game. There are four playable characters and a five-part story that takes place in the fictional state of San Andreas. After completing the game in Miami, the player can choose to play the missions in Vice City or Liberty City. In Liberty City, the player can gain notoriety (making them a target of criminals), and has access to all the vehicles from Grand Theft Auto III, along with new vehicles. The character of Gabriel Roman returns as the protagonist.

Gameplay: GTA Vice City Stories is a Grand Theft Auto-style game set in the state of San Andreas. The game is played by either choosing one of four main characters, the player's overall location, and gameplay options, or going solo and playing the game as the player wants. The game's story has the player solving a five-part mystery that takes place in the state of San Andreas, during the 1980s. The player is able to leave the gameplay menus at any time, although there are a few missions which require the player to stay in the game in order to successfully finish them. The game will load at first the player's last mission, which can be chosen before starting the game. All main missions are available in any order, but several are only available if the player has previously played them. Each of the main missions have an objective which the player is either forced to complete or need to help a character complete. The player can complete missions in any order, and only one mission can be in progress at a time. The player can also complete side missions, which are connected to the main story by the Las Venturas jail. As such, the player can continue to pursue any of the primary objectives without getting locked out of the game until all five objectives are completed. The player can choose which of the four main characters to play as: Michael, Franklin, Trevor and AJ. Each
